

It is said that a phosphate trust is the next thing in contemplation. Prices will increase. Farmers had better look to home production.

The swindlers, who advertise to sell a large amount of counterfeit money for a small sum, are finding South Carolina pastures refreshingly green. A Lancaster lamb was taken in by them a day or more ago.

GRANT'S MONUMENT fund is in a desperate way. Only $7,000 has been subscribed, and not the faithful are trying to touch the patriotic heart by raffling a crazy quilt for the benefit of the fund. To what straits have they come!

The termination of the unfounded contest for Mr. Carlisle's seat by Mr. Theobald, now leaves Congress free to go into the prompt discharge of its chief duty. Let them press forward in the work of tax reduction and tariff reform.

A severe blow to the Blair bill was the opinion of ex-Justice Strong of the Supreme Court before the Columbia College Law Class. In his opinion the bill is unconstitutional, and he believes this to be the opinion of the present members of the bench.

GEO. W. CHILDS says he wouldn't have it under any circumstances. We are not surprised at this. A newspaper man never wants to be President. The Republicans still, have Blair and Sherman to fall back on, and Barkis is willing in both cases.

SENATOR CHANDLER has introduced a bill inquiring into naval contracts since March 4, 1885. He wanted information from that time, but he got more than he wanted. He will get information from 1880. Mr. Chandler had something to do with the navy in 1880.

SOME Republicans of Philadelphia want to nominate the Philadelphia philanthropist, Geo. W. Childs, as a Republican candidate for the Presidency. Mr. Childs is reputed to have a big "bar," but it will take a bigger one than the Republican party can get up to defeat Grover Cleveland.

THE people of Washington have been recently enjoying the privilege of having a genuine South Carolina convention in their midst. That is, a colored convention. Two chairmen, two sets of delegates, and everybody talking and fighting at the same time is decidedly suggestive of a South Carolina Republican convention.

THE shooting of Louise Michel, the high priestess of revolutionary France, while inciting Anarchists to action, illustrates the fact that those who excite the angry passions of the multitude are often the first to suffer by them. The case of Dr. Guillotin, the inventor and victim of his own machine—the guillotine—will not lack parallels so long as violence is preached as a panacea for public grievances.

THE Blair bill is fair to look upon indeed. But when it is taken into consideration the fact that its passage would tend to make us lose the quality of self-reliance, a quality which education cannot make up for; that we can work out our own salvation in the matter and be more intelligent; that its features give us a form of paternal government repugnant to American ideas, then it is not the good thing it seemed to be.

"To punish dealing in futures in agricultural products" is the title of a bill introduced in Congress. The bill makes it unlawful for one or more persons in any State or Territory to contract with any person for the future delivery of cotton, grain, pork, lard, or any animal or other agricultural product when such contract does not, in good faith, contemplate the actual delivery of the article embraced in the provisions of the law is to be punishable by a fine not exceeding $1,000.

THE New York Star, referring to the cry of monopolistic journals; that Englishmen have ulterior designs to ruin us, from the fact that they advocate free trade at home and would rejoice to see it everywhere, says:

Faugh! what a notion! men who make such arguments must have of the sense and credulity of the voters. Men and journals who talk such stuff forget the starving thousands and the idle millions deprived of all chance for subsistence by taxes that go into the pockets of the few—taxes levied upon what we eat, drink, and wear—taxes that enable men to shut up shops and stop production, whenever they take a notion to declare larger dividends.

THE National Democratic Executive Committee will meet in Washington on the 22nd of February to decide upon a place of meeting for the nominating convention. Baltimore, New York, Cincinnati, St. Louis and Chicago all want it. New York seems to lead in the race. It is a matter of little importance anyway, as Cleveland is the man. It has been suggested by an exchange that there could be a great saving to everybody if delegates would simply send their choice to the Committee by postal card. This is suggested from the fact of the almost unanimous sentiment in favor of Cleveland.

A sound Legal Opinion.
E. Brainbridge Munday, Esq., County Attorney, Clay Co., Tex., says: "Have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother also was very low with Malaria Fever and Jaundice, and was cured by timely use of this medicine. Am satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life."
Mr. D. L. Wilkerson, of Horse Cave, Ky., asks a like testimony, saying: "He positively believes he would have died, had it not been for Electric Bitters. This great remedy will ward off, as well as cure all Malaria Diseases, and for all Kidney, Liver and Stomach Disorders stands unequalled. Price 25c. and 50c. at McMaster, Brice & Ketchin."

The Cotton Tax.
A bill passed the United States Senate one day last week which has in view the refunding to the States and Territories of the money collected from them under the direct tax law enacted in 1861.

An amendment was offered but rejected, which provided the refunding of the cotton tax collected under the law of 1862.

In the first instance, $17,350,000 is appropriated for the purpose stated, and should the amendment ever become law, $68,000,000 additional will have to be appropriated, making a grand total of $85,350,000.

How the Senate, in justice to all sections, could enact one and refuse the other cannot be surmised. The cotton tax collected under the law of 1862 should in all fairness and wisdom be refunded to the States according to their dues, and when the bill comes to the House we trust the amendment will be insisted upon. It will be seen that a very respectable hole will be dug into the surplus, but the idea is right and should be embodied in a law.

Protectionist journals urge this measure quite freely, but their motives are not the purest. By cutting down the surplus they hope to stop tariff agitation, thereby keeping up the taxes upon the people. The government can make reparation for the imposition of the direct tax by refunding it; but such an act will not relieve it of its imperative duty to cut down the iniquitous and burdensome tariff and thus help to prevent in future any apprehensions caused by the accumulation of a large and dangerous surplus.

Request in Pace!

Capt. B. R. Tillman has written his farewell address to the people of the State so far as the farmers' movement is concerned. He says he will no longer agitate those measures for which he has been contending for the last three years. His parting shot was replete with all the bitterness which has characterized him in all his public utterances. It is well for the farmers and the State as a whole that Capt. Tillman has decided to stop his method of warfare for the farmers. No movement conducted as this one was, by its acknowledged leader, can ever be successful. Capt. Tillman seldom had a pleasant word for any of the ruling authorities of the State or any class of people who opposed his views. He has characterized the government, acknowledged to be economical and honest, as a corrupt ring, with only one object in view—"putting money in their purses." He has charged members of the Legislature with the crime of bribe-taking. Lawyers, and indeed everybody else not in the "movement," were emissaries of the devil or the very incarnation of wickedness itself.

Under these circumstances it is not strange that he met with violent opposition on the part of those so maligned. Many persons favorable to the movement, or at least indifferent, were driven to oppose it by the malignant and unjust criticisms of its leader. We say then that it is well that the man who did more to stir up strife among classes of our citizens than anybody else is publicly dead, and we trust that whoever shall lead the agricultural interests of the State in future shall be a man who by prudence and wisdom will commend its desires to citizens of all classes and conditions.

Value of Savings Associations.
Our subscriptions in town assure the organization of the Fairfield Savings and Loan Association. The capital stock is made one thousand shares in order to accommodate our friends in the country. THE NEWS AND HERALD will be glad to answer any inquiries which may be made by letter or otherwise in regard to the workings of the Association; any information will be cheerfully given to the best of our ability. We want all who desire it, in the country, to come in with us. It will benefit all who may be disposed to invest small sums of money. As suggested by one of the most enterprising and far-sighted citizens of the country, if we can get this Association to sufficient proportions, we can soon rid ourselves of foreign land loan companies and their exorbitant rates of interest. So we want all men in the country who so desire to come in and share the benefits. In this connection an editorial clipping from the Register explains how it works very satisfactorily:

Another illustration can be given. A young man having a salary of six hundred dollars, finds that he can live on five hundred, and has one hundred to spare. He may spend this in liquor and cigars, which, granting that they may afford him pleasure, leave him, after they are consumed, with nothing to show for his money. Or he may invest in furniture and works of art, which will continue to afford him pleasure and comfort, but do not add anything more to his wealth than the first case, if, indeed, they do not deteriorate in value. Lastly he may invest the money in some productive business, or put it into a loan association, in which case it adds a certain profit to itself each year. Assuming the rate of interest to be seven per cent, not compounded, the difference to the individual in accumulated wealth would be:

In the first case.....$ 00 00
In the second case.....1,300 00
In the third case.....1,315 00

The difference would be still greater if interest is compounded. This comparison fully demonstrates the advantage to the individual and the community of some scheme by which small savings of the poorer classes may be united into one aggregate and thrown into productive business.

Jim Baker and Sam Arthur Get Their Money.
The Times recently mentioned the fact that Jim Baker and Sam Arthur had drawn $15,000 in the Louisiana State Lottery. Last Thursday the money was received through the Missouri National Bank, and turned over to the lucky holders of the ticket. Three or four other minor prizes were secured by Missouri parties at the last drawing. Another tenth of the $150,000 was drawn by William Poole, of the town of Anconada, in the adjoining county of Deer Lodge, and was collected through the Omaha National Bank of Omaha; Nebraska. What is this Disease that is Coming Upon Us?

Like a thief at night it steals in upon our lives. The patients have pains about the chest and sides; and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint, all gone sensation, at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and clammy. After a while a cough sets in, at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish-colored expectoration. The patient feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become costive; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow; the urine is scanty and high colored, depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired, with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population has this disease in some of its varied forms.

It has been found that physicians have mistaken the cause of this disease. Some have treated it for a liver complaint, others for kidney disease, etc., but none of these kinds of treatment have been attended with success; for it is really constipation and dyspepsia. It is also found that Shaker Extract of Roots, or Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, when properly prepared will remove this disease in all its stages. Care must be taken, however, to secure the genuine article.

IT WILL SELL BETTER THAN COTTON.

Mr. John C. Hemptstall, of Chulafirmee, Cleburn Co., Ala., writes: "My wife has been so much benefited by Shaker Extract of Roots or Seigel's Syrup that she says she would rather be without part of her food than without the medicine. It has done her more good than the doctors and all other medicines put together. I would ride twenty miles to get it into the hands of any sufferer if he can get it in no other way. I believe it will soon sell in this State better than cotton."

TESTIMONY FROM TEXAS.

Mrs. S. E. Barton, of Varner, Icy Co., Mo., writes that she had been long afflicted with dyspepsia and disease of the various organs and was cured Shaker Extract of Roots. v. J. J. McGuire, merchant, the same place, who sold Mrs. Barton the medicine, says he has sold it for four years and never knew it to fail.

SHE WAS ALMOST DEAD

I was so low with dyspepsia that there was not a physician to be found who could do anything with me. I had fluttering of the heart and swimming of the head. One day I read your pamphlet called "Life Among the Shakers," which described my disease better than I could myself. I tried the Shaker Extract of Roots and kept on with it until to-day I rejoice in good health.
